

Wrongful Conviction.

New Trial.

Justice Achieved.

THE CLIENT MAINTAINED HIS INNOCENCE

The client was accused of sexually assaulting the five-year-old daughter of his former girlfriend.

After being convicted by a jury in 2018, he spent the following eight years in prison while continuing to challenge his conviction.

THE COURT FOUND TRIAL COUNSEL CONSTITUTIONALLY INEFFECTIVE

Following a motion for a new trial under MCR 6.500 and a contested Ginther hearing held over several days, the court found that trial counsel was constitutionally ineffective for:

- Failing to retain and consult with an expert regarding allegations of sexual assault involving a young child
 - Failing to adequately address expert testimony presented by the prosecution

The result: A new trial.
